1. About the conference

AUTEX is the Association of Textile Universities, which brings together prestigious universities in the field of the textiles from over 30 countries around the world. The association was founded in 1994 and its mission is to facilitate international cooperation in the field of high-level education and textile research. Since 2001, each year a different member of AUTEX has been organizing the conference, attended by hundreds of scientists and companies. The Autex Conference is one of the most important scientific events in the field of textiles, aimed at bringing together leading researchers, experts, students and people from the industry from around the world to share their knowledge, exchange scientific ideas and discuss the latest developments, new perspectives and directions for the future in the textile area.

Why participate?

- the largest textile international conference with a long tradition,
- an annual participation of hundreds of scientists and companies,
- the opportunity to present the scientific achievements among specialists,
- the possibility of establishing international contacts,
- very affordable conference fees,
- the articles will be indexed by Web of Science.
